MURDER IS THEORY OF OFFICIALS

Bail Bond of Mrs. Helen Angele May Be Recalled

IS MATERIAL WITNESS

Police Do Not Believe, However, That She Had Any Direct Connection With Waldo Ballou's Death—Coroner to Resume the Inquiry.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Stamford, Conn., June 30.—Definite announcement was made today that the police are working on the theory that Waldo R. Ballou, the aged political leader whose tragic death early last week is under investigation, was murdered.

There was also an intimation that the bail bond of Mrs. Helen M. Angele, at whose apartments Ballou was a visitor on the night of his death, might be recalled. She is now at liberty under $5000 bonds awaiting the outcome of the coroner's inquiry.

It was learned today that while the police do not believe Mrs. Angele had any direct connection with the death, they do believe she knows who was responsible for it, and may be regarded as a very material witness. The theory on which the police, it is understood, are working, is that a second man was in the Angele apartments after Ballou left last Tuesday night, that the latter returned unexpectedly and found him there and that a quarrel ensued during which Ballou received the blow which caused his death. The police claim to be in possession of evidence to substantiate the theory and which it is said may lead to an arrest.

The coroner expects to resume his inquest Friday, and meantime, the chemists employed by the investigators are continuing their analysis of the mysterious stains found at the Angele apartments, including the most recently discovered marks on the matting near Mrs. Angele's bed. The discovery of this stain, it is understood to have been one of the reasons for the sudden postponement of the inquest yesterday.

The police, it is learned, do not expect that the marks found on the matting near Mrs. Angele's bed, in the case, will prove to be blood stains, but do believe that the iron was used to strike down Ballou and hold that the condition of the dead man's straw hat, found in a clothes chest in Mrs. Angele's room, is evidence along that line.

SOCIETY WILL TESTIFY IN THE GIFFORD TRIAL

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Albany, N. Y., June 30.—Society of Troy, Hudson and Albany was called upon to testify today at the trial of Malcolm Gifford, Jr., as to his whereabouts on the night Frank J. Cloute met his death. Among them were several of Gifford's young men and women companions who told of his presence at a dinner dance at the Troy club on that night.

Mrs. Robert Cloute, Jr., one of the patronesses, testified she saw Gifford dancing before she left for home about midnight. She did not remember whether he was at the dinner which preceded the dance.

Howard E. Raney of Hudson one of Gifford's friends who stayed with him in Troy on the night of the dance, declared that Gifford dressed in evening clothes, left his companions early in the evening. Raney said he next saw him at the dance about 11 o'clock.

"Did you notice anything peculiar about Gifford's actions during the latter part of the evening?" asked the district attorney.

"Nothing except that he was unusually quiet," was the reply.

The next day said Raney, Gifford's hat was placed in his (Raney's) suitcase at the defendant's request and taken to Hudson.

Derick L. Boardman, at whose home in Troy, Gifford stopped on the night Cloute was slain, swore that on the morning following the killing he saw Gifford on the roof of the house near where Cloute's purse later was found. Shortly prior to that time, Boardman declared, he had seen Gifford standing in a window holding a purse.

Delay In Announcing the Commission's Decision On Freight Rate Increase

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Washington, June 30.—Prospects for a delay of a week or more in announcing the interstate commerce commission's decision in the application of the eastern railroads for a five per cent. increase in freight rates, have revived speculation about the commission's conclusions in the hard fought case.

A sudden hitch in the decision day coming just at a time when it was generally supposed to be on the eve of announcement was taken to indicate that the commission is far from unanimous over what it shall decide. So many elements enter into the decision that closest observers of the commission's procedure are now predicting that the announcement may be delayed until the middle of July.

Woman's Suffrage a State Issue, Says President to a Deputation of 500

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Washington, June 30.—President Wilson told a deputation of more than 500 women suffragists at the White House today, that woman suffrage was a state issue and not a national one, and for that reason he would not use his influence for the passage of a constitutional amendment in congress.

More than 500 women suffragists representing organized club women of nearly every state, marched on the White House today and demanded of President Wilson a definite statement of his position toward votes for women.

"What are you going to do for woman suffrage at this session of congress?" was the question the leaders bluntly asked.

"Will you use your influence in favor of the Mondell-Bristow suffrage resolution for a constitutional amendment, which comes up before the House rules committee tomorrow?"

Headed by Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, Rheta ChildeDorr, Mrs. William Kent, Alice Paul and other leading spirits in the congressional union for woman suffrage, the delegation after a mass meeting, marched behind a big brass band to the White House gates, where they were received by Secretary Tumulty, who took them to the president.

A large engraved copy of the suffrage resolution adopted at the recent Chicago convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs was presented to the president as a preliminary to the speeches of the suffragists. Presenting the engraved resolution Mrs. Ellis Logan replied to the charge that the Chicago convention had been packed in favor of the suffrage resolution.

"The women over the seas are holding out their hand to us," said one. "Eight million working women have their eyes on the result of this resolution today. Mr. President, on the eve of the Fourth of July when the declaration of our forefathers still rings its jubilant note around the world what more fitting hour and time for our president, the father of daughters—to give his voice and influence to our cause."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Chicago, June 30.—Private drinking booths in restaurants and in backrooms of saloons were outlawed in Chicago today by an ordinance passed last night by the city council. The new law, aimed primarily at the saloon backroom, prohibits curtained recesses, enclosures or any booth with a back more than three and one half feet high, the height of an ordinary chair, in any place where liquor is sold to women.

Scores of representatives of women's organizations which have fought for the measure sat late in the council gallery watching the action upon it. The ordinance was made law by unanimous consent without a vote. The aldermen were warmly greeted and thanked by the women.

COUNCIL ABOLISHES THE DRINKING BOOTH AND ALL BACKROOMS

When the Dalmat reached the mouth of the river it proceeded directly to the battleship Viribus Unitis which was lying at anchor waiting to convey the bodies to Trieste.

The yachts fired a salute of 19 guns as she came alongside the battleship and the coffins were then transferred to the after deck of the Viribus Unitis which had been transformed into a mortuary chapel decorated with flags. Here the bodies were again blessed with much ceremony by the ship's chaplain in the presence of the members of the household and the naval officers while the entire crew was drawn up in a circle around them.

COL. ROOSEVELT SPEAKS TONIGHT IN "SMOKY CITY"

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] New York, June 30.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, accompanied by his son, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and his secretary, left at 8:05 o'clock this morning for Pittsburgh, where tonight he will speak at the closing session of the second annual conference of the Progressive League of Pennsylvania.

Col. Roosevelt appeared to be in excellent health, but expressed doubt as to the condition of his voice. His speech at Pittsburgh tonight, he said, would serve as a test of his voice and determine to some extent, at least, his plans for the campaign.

FIVE PARDONED FROM OHIO PEN BY GOVERNOR

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Columbus, June 30.—Governor Cox today pardoned five penitentiary prisoners whose release had been recommended by the state board of pardons. One is a life prisoner, Charles Kettellwell, sentenced from Belmont county for burglary and larceny. He will be released at once.

Others are: Walter England, Franklin county, forgery, received 1913 to serve 5 years to be released at once; Silas H. Eldridge, Portage sentence 1913 to serve 4 years for embezzlement, to be released soon.

BUBONIC PLAGUE PRECAUTION IS BEING ENFORCED

Memphis Tenn., June 30.—While no alarm is felt here regarding the bubonic plague in New Orleans, the local health authorities will take every precaution to prevent its introduction into Memphis.

Infection from New Orleans by steamboat, it is said, is not probable as there are no boats plying between the two cities.

CITIES ARE DRAPED IN MOURNING

For Dead Archduke Francis Ferdinand And His Consort

PLACED ABOARD SHIP

Will Be Taken to Trieste on Board Royal Yacht Dalmat—Villagers Along the River, Headed by Officials and Clergy, Kneel in Prayer.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Metkovich, Herzegovina, June 30.—The bodies of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his consort, the Duchess of Hohenberg, arrived here on a special train at 6 o'clock this morning from Sarajevo. They were accompanied by the members of the household. The town was draped in black while all the lamp posts were covered with crepe. Flags on all buildings were at half mast. Guards of honor from the army and navy were drawn up along the platform and behind them were gathered the local authorities, the school children of the town and a dense crowd of citizens.

The coffins were removed from the cars by bluejackets and after a prayer by a priest, were conveyed amid the roll of muffled drums and the tolling of church bells to the royal yacht Dalmat lying in the river. They were covered with military flags and wreaths, while on the yacht itself were hundreds of floral offerings from military and naval officers and civilians. As the yacht left the guard of honor fired a general salute. The vessel was preceded down the river by a torpedo boat and followed by the governor's yacht, on board of which were the members of the household of the archduke and duchess. The governor also accompanied the bodies while they remained in the waters of his territory.

Every village and hamlet along the river Narenta was draped in mourning and their populations headed by the municipal officials and clergy assembled along the banks, the men dressed in black, carrying lighted candles and kneeling while the yacht passed. At the same time the church bells tolled and the priests uttered blessings.

When the Dalmat reached the mouth of the river it proceeded directly to the battleship Viribus Unitis which was lying at anchor waiting to convey the bodies to Trieste.

The yachts fired a salute of 19 guns as she came alongside the battleship and the coffins were then transferred to the after deck of the Viribus Unitis which had been transformed into a mortuary chapel decorated with flags. Here the bodies were again blessed with much ceremony by the ship's chaplain in the presence of the members of the household and the naval officers while the entire crew was drawn up in a circle around them.

The Viribus Unitis weighed anchor at 9 o'clock and sailed northward with the archducal standard flying at half mast.

The battleship Viribus Unitis is proceeding slowly toward Trieste so as to allow the court officials in Vienna time to make preparations for the funeral. The vessel will arrive on Wednesday evening and the body will be taken ashore on Thursday and conveyed on gun carriages through troop lined streets to the railroad station on their way to Vienna.

HEAVY INSURANCE CARRIED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Vienna, June 30.—The news of the death of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and the Duchess of Hohenberg was broken to their children at 7 o'clock on Sunday evening. The children broke down and their aunt, Countess Chotek, fainted.

The Tagblatt today says the late archduke's life was insured with Dutch companies for $12,000,000 and that of his wife for $6,000,000.

The will of the late archduke was found and opened by Emperor Francis Joseph this evening. The archduke's children, it is said, are to inherit their late father's estates in Bohemia and at Salzburg and Artstetten. The rest of the estates, including the famous villa Tivoli at Florence, are to go to the new heir to the throne.

CITY WAS QUIET.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Sarajevo, Bosnia, June 30.—The night passed quietly in this city. Six persons were arrested for slight offenses. Martial law was still in force today.

Reports from other districts of Bosnia today say that disorders have virtually ceased.

The perpetrators of Sunday's outrages are to be tried before the civil courts and not under martial law. Nedeljko Gabrinovich who threw the bomb (Continued on Page 10, Col. 2.)

Captain Hugh Rodman, U. S. N., in Charge of Ships Going Through Panama Canal

Hugh Rodman is the real sailor among the big guns, so to speak, in the Navy. Even the rear admirals, who top off Uncle Sam's great naval service, do not come up to Rodman for love of the sea, if the proof of the act is the doing thereof. For Hugh Rodman, captain in the navy, who has taken charge of the important responsibility of looking after the shipping that goes through the Panama canal, boasts of longer sea service than any other officer on the active list of the United States Navy. Rodman has been at sea considerably more than twenty-five years.

Turtle Creek Valley Strike District Under Control of Constabulary

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Pittsburgh, June 30.—Dawn saw the state constabulary in complete control of the situation in the strike district of the Turtle Creek Valley. Four troopers cleared the bridge leading to the Westinghouse Electric and Machine Company of the deputy sheriffs that have held it for three weeks, and all persons were allowed to pass without question.

Streets are patrolled by mounted men and the people kept moving. A great crowd of strikers assembled at the plant entrances to see who would return to work, and pickets were active under the restrictions laid down by Captain Adams when he visited the strike headquarters last night. One man overstepped the bounds and was promptly arrested by a trooper.

Strict orders were given by the constabulary for the armed guards to remain in the works, and in no circumstances to show themselves on the streets with their guns. The guards stationed at the Pennsylvania station to protect the railroad property was reduced at daybreak. Petitions were circulated today calling on Governor Tener to withdraw the constabulary "because they are not needed."

MEDIATORS ARRANGING DEPARTURE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Niagara Falls Ont., June 30.—After a conference today between Ambassador Dagama of Brazil, ministers Noan and Sarez, it was announced that mediation would formally recess tomorrow until such time as constitutionalist delegates and Huerta representatives could confer informally on Mexico's internal problem.

The mediators came to this decision after reading General Carranza's note asking for time to consult his general as to the informal padley. Minister Suarez referred to the Carranza note as "satisfactory" and sensible in its explanation of the need for time. All the mediators and their secretaries began immediately to make plans for departure tomorrow or Thursday and it is now expected that by the end of the week the entire mediation colony will have left here. No time has been set for reconvening of the mediation, but it is not believed they will gather again for another two or three weeks.

HUERTA PREPARES TO LEAVE MEXICO

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Washington, June 30.—Private despatches received here today from unofficial sources in Mexico City stated that President Huerta had sent his son and daughter toward Puerto Mexico and was making preparations for his own departure on short notice. The information was conveyed to the state department.

WILL FIGHT CARRANZA

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Mexico City, June 30.—Zapata is said to have declared that he intends to extend his operations along the western coast of Mexico as far as Sonora and that he will fight Carranza "forever."

The information was brought to Mexico City by persons who arrived from towns under the control of the followers of Zapata in the state of Morelos.

CHEROKEE NATION TO BE DISSOLVED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Washington, June 30.—The Cherokee nation, largest of the five civilized tribes, will be dissolved as a nation at midnight and the tribal funds, amounting to $600,000 will be divided among its 41,000 members. Commissioner Sells of the Indian office today called for the resignation of all Cherokee officials.

REASON FOR PROPOSALS REJECTION

By Mexican Delegates At Niagara Falls Made Public

ELECTORAL LIBERTY

In Republic Would Be a Sham They Declare, Were American Proposals Accepted—Claim Agreement Has Been Reached.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Mexico City, June 30.—Roberto Esteva Ruiz, acting foreign minister, has given out a memorandum bearing on the statement of the Mexican delegates to the Niagara Falls mediation conference addressed to the American delegates and first made public from Niagara Falls, June 17. In it he brings out certain passages which were not contained in the statement as issued at Niagara Falls.

The object of the memorandum, it was said, was to combat the proposals presented by the American delegates which were said to be tantamount to reducing electoral liberty in Mexico to a sham as the elections would be held under pressure in favor of Carranza. This, it was argued, would be bad for Mexico and for the United States as well as for Carranza, as it would cause bad feeling between the two peoples and Carranza would always be regarded as the nominee and subordinate of the American government.

For this reason, it is stated, the Mexican delegates rejected the proposals in question without even consulting their own government for they could not countenance any arrangement enabling the Washington government to put in a president in Mexico.

The Mexican delegates in the document ask why the government at Washington objects to the establishment of a neutral provisional government which the Mexican delegates had immediately accepted. Their only answer, they say, can be that the Washington government does not desire electoral liberty in Mexico.

President Wilson, they assert, has constantly alleged the welfare of the Mexican people to be the reason for his attitude and the delegates said they thought the Mexican people should be consulted as to what they regarded as their welfare and not have it forced on them.

The Mexican delegates denied that the advance of the revolution proved sentiment in Mexico favored Carranza as states containing two-thirds of the country's inhabitants were controlled by the revolution. But even supposing that national sentiment favored Carranza, his election, they pointed out, was certain under a neutral government and there was no necessity for putting him in through a provisional government under his influence. If Carranza was elected at a free election, they pointed out, he might be a successful and respectable president, capable of pacifying the country, but if put in by Washington, they argued, he would be hampered by discredit and accused by popular clamor of treason and perpetual subordination to the orders of the White House. If the Washington government insisted on its proposals the delegates contended, the negotiations would fail and civil strife in Mexico would continue and even if the revolutionary armies were victorious, it would only be at the cost of much suffering and bloodshed. They said it was unbefitting to the government of a great civilized people such as the Americans, to accept responsibility for these horrors when the same result could be attained by an honorable and peaceful exercise of the ballot.

These reasons, they declared, also prevented the Mexican delegates accepting an electoral committee with a constitutionalist majority set up expressly for the purpose of securing the triumph of a given party. Nor could the Mexican delegates accept the proposal for the indefinite presence of American sea and land forces as elections in Mexico could not and ought not to be held under seeming pressure.

BUT FEW FEDERALS ESCAPED AFTER THE ZACATECAS BATTLE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Torreon, June 30.—Railroad men brought the information today that General Medina Barron, commander of the federal garrison, defeated last Tuesday at Zacatecas, had reached Aguascalientes with only fourteen men. General Barron was wounded in the thigh, they said.

The body of General Olea, another federal commander, has been found on the Zacatecas battlefield according to reports to General Villa. A son of General Barron, a major also was killed and his body found and identified.

The only group of federals which left Zacatecas in any order was one of about 200 men it has been learned. All others fled panic stricken. So far as it has been possible to ascertain, the federals who managed to escape numbered more than 300. The garrison consisted of from fourteen to fifteen thousand men. About 5,000 were taken prisoners.

The extensive battle ground has made accurate figures difficult to secure. On the Guadalupe road leading to the city some two thousand federals died while more than 400 bodies were found in redoubts and trenches round the hill El Grillo.

NEW ELEMENTS HAVE APPEARED IN SITUATION

Washington, June 30.—New elements in the Mexican situation caused by internal dissensions in the revolutionary ranks and Carranza's continued delay in outlining his attitude toward the proposed conference (Continued on Page 10, Col. 1.)

Contest Editor's Query Column

The Advocate will be glad to answer all legitimate questions regarding the contest through the Contest Editor's query column. Questions may be sent by mail or telephone but the answers will be printed in this column so that no contestant will have any advantage over another.

Mr. C. V. Mitchell, 674 Linden avenue, Zanesville, sends to the Advocate the following letter which is very much appreciated:

"I wish to congratulate you upon the fairness and success of your recent contest. Although I had only 33 correct answers it was my own fault that I did not win the first prize, for if I had used 5 coupons for every picture I would have had 65 correct answers. I only used 120 coupons and so I only used one coupon for quite a number of answers, because I used three in quite a number. If I had used five coupons for every answer I would still have missed Nos. 30, 42, 43, 49 and 70. I used only one coupon for No. 50. I felt so sure that 'Paul the Pedlar' was the correct answer. If I had sent another I should have sent 'Out for the Coin,' which is just as good a reply. I missed No. 55 as I did not think it was the Shepherd of the Hills as there were no hills in the picture, but if I had sent five coupons I should have sent The Shepherd of the Hills. Nos. 30, 42 and 43 are the only ones that anyone can justly find fault with your answers. I sent The Hidden Hand for No. 30, A Gateless Barrier for No. 42, The Car and the Lady for No. 43, and I claim that my answers to these three were very much better than the Advocate answers. I sent the Proof of the Pudding for No. 61 but if I had sent another answer it would have been The Professor at the Breakfast Table. I hope you will have another contest soon as I wish to give you another trial. Although not a prize winner, I am satisfied.

J. H. K. Columbus, writes: "I want to assure you that I think your contest was one of the fairest I have ever known of. I had the answers to all except Nos. 9, 25, 30, 42 and 63, but was unlucky in my elimination."

C. B. J.—Photographs of a number of the prize winners are now in the hands of the engraver, and as soon as the halftone cuts are in the printers' hands the Advocate can announce definitely when the prize winners will be published. It will be but a very few days.

Mrs. M. M., New Concord—Thank you for writing: "I surely have enjoyed this contest and while I did not eliminate as I should yet I have no kick coming." Again I have enjoyed the query column, both brickbats and bouquets, very much and it shows your honesty in printing both. The contest has been most fair, and I shall be glad to enter another. It seems to be the wish of many and we all feel that we'd get first prize next time. With best wishes for the continued success of your newsy paper, I am, yours very truly.

W. S. Johnson, Reynoldsburg, writes: "Possibly you remember I wrote protesting against your answering questions about the pictures. It was very unfair as your answer meant one thing to the party who asked, and quite another thing to other contestants who knew not what the question was. I missed several pictures by your answers. Also I missed several by taking you at your word that each picture fairly represented the correct title. There is nothing in picture 25 to indicate that there is to be 'Only One Taste,' nothing to indicate that those are 'Folks From Dixie' in 47, and nothing in 64 to indicate that the man is Professor or that it is breakfast rather than any other meal. The most absurd one of all is No. 42. No sane man would for a moment maintain that an old barnyard with a few domestic fowls and animals and fence fairly represents nature. Place Leisure Hours With Nature' under No. 10, No. 23, No. 61 and see how much better it looks. Nos. 9, 48 and 70 also fit it fairly well, but 42—rotten, rotten. No. 17 is a title which it is impossible to represent fairly in a picture. No. 11 is also unfair, as there is nothing to show that the books belong to the man. No. 30 is also very far from fairly represented. The lace may be brand new and there are many kinds of perfume. I have been in several contests, but in all honesty am forced to say that yours has been the most unfair and the most poorly managed contest of them all. I admit your intentions were to be fair."

W. L. Davis, superintendent public schools at Bremen, says: "I do not expect a prize, as I only had 53 correct. I had all of them among my probable answers except 'Leisure Hours With Nature,' 'Little Cares of Every Day,' 'He and She,' and 'The Magic Melody.' I have no complaint to make as I eliminated the correct one out of six probable answers on twelve of them. In a contest of this kind it all depends upon the elimination as one can usually work out the majority of the answers among his probable answers. In the Pittsburgh contest that just closed I had 68 among my probable answers and got 59 correct. In the last Columbus Dispatch contest I had 69 among my probable answers and had 48 correct. I believe I would do better if I would make out probable list, and then have some other person to select the final answers. Wishing you an increased circulation with your paper and thanking you for your courteous treatment, I remain your friend."

REAL WONDER-WORKER FOR WRINKLED FACES

Those who have tried all sorts of so-called "wrinkle removers" in vain effort to lose those unwelcome traces of age, illness or worry can find words to express their delight with the wonderful salolite formula, once they have given it a trial. To such of this method does not alone to its marvelous effectiveness—upon the deepest lines and crow's feet, as well as upon the very fine ones—but also to its surprising quick action and its entire harmlessness, its simplicity and its inexpensiveness are other commendable features, for one needs only dissolve an ounce of powdered salolite in a half pint of water and bathe the face in this solution. At once a remarkable transformation is beheld. It is not only the effect on wrinkles and creases that is so noticeable, but facial contour is remarkably improved and the face looks much younger. One should be sure to ask the druggist for the powdered salolite. The lotion, being so refreshing, is particularly grateful to tired faces, those warm, depressing days.

Hints For Home Care of the Hair

By JEAN CLAY

Hair, to be beautiful, should be thick, long, of fine silken texture, smooth, glossy and fluffy. Few heads of hair possess all these qualities, principally because of neglect or of insufficient knowledge of the hygienic care of the hair and scalp. The proper preservative and beautifying methods are really the easiest and most economical. The simple rules here set down may be depended upon for results.

HOW TO END DANDRUFF—You cannot brush or wash out dandruff. To one afflicted with hair destroying bacteria even the most thorough shampoo gives relief for only a day. Dandruff is a skin disease and must be removed from the scalp and hair, making it dull, brittle, faded and lifeless. The only sure way of getting rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon, apply at night when retiring, using enough to moisten the scalp and rub it gently with the fingertips. One application is often sufficient. You will find liquid arvon never fails to do the work.

TO KEEP HAIR HEALTHY—A shampoo that leaves the scalp and hair too dry must be avoided. A soap shampoo that is difficult to remove from the scalp and hair does as much harm as good. The correct shampoo is cleansing, restful and refreshing to the scalp. Common mislabeled "conditioning" oil shampoos, which require every requirement for correct shampooing. It is searching, yet bland and emollient. Get of all the latter and use only the former. Get the multifid coconut oil. From your druggist in liquid form, apply a few drops at a time and rub into the hair and scalp until a rich lather is obtained. One or two teaspoonfuls is sufficient for a shampoo. Multifid coconut oil does not dry the scalp or make the hair brittle.

FOR GRAY OR FADED HAIR—In these high-tensioned living, work and worry cause much premature gray hair. As gray hair is always associated with old age, there is naturally a desire to postpone its showing as long as possible. To restore gray or faded hair to its natural color is a fortunate thing. Get from your druggist a small quantity of what is known as a restorative solution. Moisten the hair with a sponge or a piece of cotton, or put the solution on a soft brush and draw through the hair the strands. Use a few applications is all that is necessary to gradually restore faded or gray hair to its natural color, and no one can possibly detect it.

Festival of St. Paul, the Patron of the Anti-Suffragists

If the anti-suffragists want a patron saint—and there are indications that they stand in need of one—they could not do better than to choose as the protector the Apostle Paul. That holy and inspired Jew will be honored today throughout the Christian world, the last day of June having been chosen as the festival of the tent-maker who became a persecutor of Christians, and afterward a devoted disciple of the new faith who devoted himself to preaching "the unsearchable riches of Christ."

If St. Paul was not the author of the phrase, "A woman's place is in the home," he at least gave frequent expressions to the idea. He constantly preached the subjection of women to their husbands, and advised wives who thirsted for knowledge to consult those oracular authorities their husbands. He emphasized the superiority of the masculine intellect, and, if he admitted that women have souls, he assuredly did not believe that they possessed much if any mind. Paul's ideal husband was literally a lord and master, and unquestioned obedience was his right. He warned the ladies to keep silent in the churches, meekness and humility were among the virtues of the fair sex most admired by Paul. For many centuries Christendom accepted his estimate of the feminine intellect—or lack of it—and it was not until the last century that women were admitted to the pulpit. What a sad spectacle would be afforded St. Paul if he could return to earth today and hear clergywomen expounding his epistles, and to see the inferior sex exalted to the position of being the principal prop and support of the church of which he was one of the founders.

St. Paul's views regarding woman-kind have quite naturally made the Hebrew of Tarsus an object of scorn and derision to the suffragists. "With great gusto the 'votes-for-women' crusaders quote a description, from Christian sources, of Paul's personality—"a man small in stature, bald-headed, 'bow-legged, stout, close-browed, with a slightly prominent nose," and they neglect to quote the remainder of the picture—"at one time he seemed like a man at another time he had the face of an angel."

St. Paul looked upon marriage somewhat in the light of a necessary evil. Whether he himself ever married or not is a question which has been disputed from very early times. Tertullian and others have held that he was a life-long bachelor but Origen Clement of Alexandria and others are inclined to the belief that he was once a benedict, but became a widower.

St. Paul's fourteenth epistles in the New Testament constitute a memorial which will preserve his name and fame as long as Christianity endures. He has many other monuments, however as thousands of churches, including the world-famous cathedral in London, bear his name. The Minnesota capital derived its name from a little frontier church built on the site of the future city by Father Gaultier, a French-Canadian priest in 1811.

German men of letters will celebrate today the centenary of the birth of Franz von Dingelstedt, the poet and theatrical director. He was born at Haldorf on June 30, 1814. Some of the products of his muse are still popular in Germany, but they are little known in the English-speaking reading public.

NO ADJOURNMENT BEFORE OCTOBER

Impossible For Senate to Pass Trust Measures Until Fall.

MANY BILLS IN THE WAY.

Wilson Assured by Senators That Legislation Can Be Passed in August, but Leaders Do Not Think So—United States Called Worst Debt Payer by Senator Williams.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 30.—[Special.]—One reason why President Wilson is so insistent upon having the trust legislation which has passed the house considered and passed by the senate is the fact that he has received assurances from Democratic senators that this legislation can all be passed early in August.

It is certainly strange that any senator would give the president such an idea in view of the fact that the appropriations are still in a congested state and knowing the long time which the senate will take over such measures as the trust bills.

Members of the house who have consulted the president with a view to securing an early adjournment have assured him that it is impossible to pass the trust bills through the senate in any such time. The house leaders say that members of the senate are trying to give the president such assurances as they think will please him rather than to state the hard cold facts that the trust legislation cannot get through in time for an adjournment much before the 1st of October.

Worst Debt Payer.

Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi was endeavoring to have an old claim for the Choctaw Indians of Mississippi attached to the Indian appropriation bill. During a discussion he criticised in severe terms the methods of the United States government in regard to various claims, and among other things said: "The very worst debt payer that I know of is these United States of America."

Senator Williams said that when he was a member of the house he had referred to him a claim going back as far as 1819 and relating to the Spanish grants of Florida. Daniel Webster passed upon the claim and declared it valid, and yet the United States had refused to pay it.

Raker and His Volcano.

There are few men in the house who break into the proceedings with more frequency than Congressman Raker of California. Shortly after the discovery of a new volcano in California he interrupted the consideration of the appropriation bill and asked unanimous consent to extend his remarks in the Record.

"On what subject?" asked somebody on the Republican side.

"On the subject of a volcano in my district," said Raker.

"I make the point of order that the gentleman cannot make a speech about himself," interjected Jim Maun.

A Friend of Lo.

For the past quarter of a century some man from New England has always been the friend of the Indians. The late Senator Daves of Massachusetts and after him the late Senator Platt of Connecticut always took an active interest in the welfare of the Indians of the west. Now it is Senator Page of Vermont. He represents New England on the Indian committee and gives constant attention not only to the hearings of the committee, but to the consideration of Indian affairs of the senate. There are not enough Indians in Vermont to count, but Senator Page makes it his business to look after those in the far west.

Dignity of the House.

Congressman Stafford of Wisconsin raised quite a fuss in the house one day because the speaker had not been invited to sit in the reserved seats for the president, the cabinet and other dignitaries at the unveiling of a statue to Commodore Barry. He said that the speaker had to sit in the seats occupied by other members of the house and it was an affront upon the high position that he held. He went on to tell how other officials and their wives were given special seats, while the speaker and members of the house occupied sections in the blazing sun in a segregated section.

"Oh, the sun did not blaze on that day," interjected Hamilton of Michigan.

"I am inclined to think the segregation was done purposely," remarked Fitzgerald of New York, "so that everybody could have an opportunity to see the members of the house."

Doorkeepers Must Be Watchful.

Under the new strict rules, which are rigidly enforced, the doorkeepers of the house and senate are obliged to be vigilant. A visitor in the gallery cannot lean forward on the rail with his elbows or even rest his hand upon it. Even a senator's wife who takes any such liberty is reminded by the doorkeeper, who rushes down the aisle, that the rules of the senate require that the gallery will be kept free, as it is a sacred part of the senate and is not to be touched with profane hands or elbows. Heretofore the doorkeepers have drowsed through the dreary debates, but they are now required to keep a watchful eye upon all people in the galleries.

To say that black is white is a little more than a white lie.

RAISING THE SCHOOLHOUSE FLAG

A Fourth of July Poem

Today the birthright of her hopes the younger nation sings As on the pinions of the light the banner lifts its wings. Today the future on us smiles and studious labors cease To set the flag above the school, our fortress wall of peace— War bugles old, storm beating drums and veterans scarred and true And children marching for the states mid roses winned with dew. Behind ye thrice a hundred years, before a thousand grand, What says the past to you today, O children of the land? What are thy legends, O thou flag that gladdened land and sea? What is thy meaning in the air amid the jubilee?

Flag of the sun that glows for all, Flag of the breeze that blows for all, Flag of the sea that flows for all, Flag of the school that stands for all, Flag of the people, one and all— The peaceful bugles blow and blow across the silver sea. What is thy meaning in the air? Oh, banner, answer me!

Oh, my America, whose flag we throne amid the sky, Beneath whose folds 'tis life to live and noblest death to die, I hear the peaceful bugles blow across the silver sea. And bless my God my palace stands a cottage home in theal So speak the voices of the past, ye children of the land, Behind us thrice a hundred years, before a thousand grand, Such are the legends of yon flag that gladdens land and sea; Such is the hand that scrolls the air this day of jubilee.

Flag of the sun that shines for all, Flag of the breeze that blows for all, Flag of the sea that flows for all, Flag of the school that stands for all, Flag of the people, one and all— Hail, flag of liberty, all hail! Hail, glorious years to come! —Hezekiah Butterworth in Youth's Companion.

Franklin's Suit of Clothes.

Shortly before the outbreak of the Revolution Benjamin Franklin, then postmaster general for the American colonies, was in London trying to get fair treatment for the Americans. His petition was dismissed by the government as "groundless, scandalous and vexatious," and he lost his official post. On returning to his lodgings that night, says Lousings' "Pictorial Field Book of the Revolution," Franklin took off the suit of clothes he had worn and declared that he would never wear it again until he should sign the degradation of England and the independence of America. More than ten years later he donned the suit again when he signed the treaty of peace which freed the United States.

Hawthorne Born July 4.

Nathaniel Hawthorne, one of the greatest of American writers, whose work is distinctively American, was born on July 4, 1804.

"Friends are fickle," complained the first pessimist. "But most of them will last as long as your money," comforted the second.

C. M. A. WINS TWO GAMES

Sunday afternoon at Wehrle Park the C. M. A. defeated the N. A. C. in two games by the scores of 4 to 1 and 8 to 0. Winters and Noblicks had things quite easy and were never troubled.

The C. M. A. was to play at Port Washington but the game was called off on account of the storm that swept over that place.

Next Saturday and Sunday the C. M. A. play the strong Mt. Vernon team at that place, so the boys had to tune up a little before going against such a strong team which is composed of some very strong talent such as Al Schwartz, Ned Ilger, Poppejoy and Critchfield.

Heavy Betting Marked Ring Contests in Good Old Days

While modern boxers get much more money out of the game than the bare-knuckle bruisers of a century or more ago, much less coin is involved in the average ring contest today. For the betting giant of the good old days have no modern prototypes. As a case in point, tomorrow will be the 14th anniversary of a bout on which several hundred thousand dollars was wagered by the bloods of England, although the championship was not involved and neither of the combatants had much of a reputation. Andrew Gamble, an Irishman, and Noah James, an Englishman, were the principals in this contest, which has become historic not only because of the amount of money which changed hands on the result, but because it was one of the most ferocious battles ever witnessed, even in those days when all important matches were decided with the "meat hands."

1863—Tom Paddock, ex-champion of England, died on this date. When Tom Sayers retired from the ring in 1860, after his battle with Heenan, a number of men claimed the title, Paddock among them. He had claimed the championship four years before and for a little while made good his claim. Paddock was 36 years old when he was matched with Sam Hurst for the belt. The battle lasted only 10 minutes and but a novice who was fighting his first ring battle, triumphed over the veteran. Paddock was severely injured and he then and there decided that his pugilistic days were over. Three years later the pugilistic Worcestershire man who had triumphed over so many great boxers received the final knockout from death. Paddock was not a scientific fighter, but he was one of the gamiest men who ever battled with the "raw uns."

1910—Ray Bronson defeated Jack Britton in 10 rounds at New Orleans.

1913—Sailor Grande defeated Frank Mantell in 20 rounds at Sacramento.

1913—Bombardier Wells knocked out Paddy Mahoney in the thirteenth round at London.

BOXING MATCH AT NEIL PARK ON JULY 4th

Columbus, June 6.—A contract was signed today with the Royal Photo and Film company whereby motion pictures will be taken Saturday afternoon of the 12-round boxing bout between Jimmy Duffy of Buffalo and Johnny Lore of New York. This is said to be the first time that motion pictures have been taken of any boxing contest in Ohio.

Both boxers are due to arrive here today to finish their training for this bout, by far the most important ever pulled off in Central Ohio. The winner is almost sure to secure a match with Charley White, the Chicago boxer, who recently secured a newspaper decision over Willie Ritchie in Milwaukee.

Transportation has been wired to each of the boxers and they have been ordered to come on immediately. It is planned to have three preliminary bouts of six rounds each, giving thirty rounds of entertainment for the afternoon. The principals in the other bouts will be announced shortly.

The advance sale has been the heaviest ever on record for a bout in Central Ohio and it is expected that the seating capacity of the grandstand at Neil Park will be taxed to take care of the crowd. The bout will be held rain or shine as the boxers will be protected by a canopy over the ring, while the spectators will be put in the grand stand.

Out-of-town reservations may be made by addressing Willard Stuart, Interurban club, care Neil House cigar stand, Columbus, O.

HEISEY PLAYGROUND DEFEATS RIVERSIDE MONDAY AFTERNOON

Tuesday afternoon on the Arch street diamond the Heisey Playground team defeated Riverside team 9 to 4, in a very interesting game of baseball, which lasted a little over an hour. Each team now has a game to its credit, Riverside having won last Thursday 3 to 2.

The feature of the games has been the battery work of both teams. Heiseys had two new faces in their line-up yesterday which added strength to their team work. Nutter was very strong at bat, while Killworth secured a home run. Naylor received three runs for Riverside unassisted.

Each of these teams has a game scheduled with the White Athletic Playground team this week, Riverside on Wednesday and Heiseys Friday afternoon.

Attendance yesterday numbered 125. While there is strong rivalry the best of order prevailed.

Here Is Good News for Stomach Victims

Some very remarkable results are being obtained by treating stomach, liver and intestinal troubles with pure vegetable oils, which exert a cleansing, soothing and purifying action upon the lower bowels, removing the obstructions of poisonous fecal matter and gases and preventing their absorption by the blood.

This done, the food is allowed free passage from the stomach, fermentation ceases and stomach troubles quickly disappear.

George H. Mayr, for twenty years a leading Chicago druggist, cured himself and many of his friends of stomach, liver and intestinal troubles of years' standing by this treatment and so successful was the remedy he devised that it has since been placed in the hands of druggists all over the country, who have sold thousands of bottles.

Though absolutely harmless, the effect of the medicine is sufficient to convince any one of its remarkable effectiveness, and within 24 hours the sufferer feels like a new person. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold here by P. D. Hall, 10 N. Side Square.

CONVULSIONS AND BRIGHTS DISEASE

An established recovery in chronic Bright's Disease with albumen dropsy, retinitis and convulsions should interest physicians.

G. W. Kirkpatrick of the Globe Milling company, 148 Laguna street, San Francisco, was in bed believed to be at the point of death for nearly nine weeks. Dr. Proctor told his wife he was liable to die at any moment.

There was dropsy and the eye symptoms and he had reached the convulsion stage. In making one of the tests, after holding Dr. Proctor dropped the tube. On picking it up he found the sample had not run out. It had solidified, showing almost solid albumen. The doctor administered Fultons' Renal Compound. This was in 1905 Patient's appearance at our office well and hearty in 1913 is answer as to the results and their permanence.

The ability of Fultons' Renal Compound to reduce albumen in many cases of Bright's Disease is not a matter of opinion but a FACT IN PHYSICS, and we will mail formula for albumen test that will show the percentage of albumen from week to week. As the albumen declines improvement commonly follows, remedies having been reported in thousands of cases. Formula and literature mailed on request. John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco. F. D. WILL SHOOT DOGS FOUND CHASING PARK SQUIRRELS

A red fox squirrel, the biggest of the half dozen which are trying to make their home in the court house park, was probably fatally injured by dogs Monday. Mayor Bigbee has instructed Chief of Police Shadman to order his patrolmen to shoot any dog seen chasing these park squirrels. The little animals are harmless and a source of entertainment and amusement not only to hundreds of children but also many of the older people whose business is, or takes them around the square. The worthless, homeless curs who ruthlessly destroy them should be put out of existence and this procedure would serve not only to save the squirrels, but would remove a menace and a nuisance from the court house park.

Then and Now.

The word "backyard" still conveys suggestions of disorder, old tin cans and ash heaps though by no means to such an extent as it did before Newark adopted the annual spring "clean up" day idea.

It is probable that a large proportion of the house-holders who have premises of this character today, worked as boys in their father's gardens. The maintenance of these plots created some degree of order in the backyard, and a successful little crop cut out an important bill of expense.

The difference is not always that the modern man is less industrious than his father was. The former generation had less to occupy its mind. There were no moving picture shows to attend, no trolley or automobile rides to take. There were fewer newspapers and magazines. There was often nothing to read in the house but heavy old books that had been perused a dozen times.

Under these conditions life was simpler. More primitive pleasures satisfied people. The boy who once found genuine pleasure in seeing the beans and peas reach maturity, now spends his half holidays watching the ball team polish off its adversaries or goes fishing or indulges in some other form of pleasure. It takes a philosophic turn of mind to get close to the garden soil in those days of rapid living.

Cleanliness on Railroads.

The railroads have had their troubles, which produce an economical point of view. Mops, brooms, and the services of scrub women cost money. Some of the roads, notably the Erie, recently reached a point of desperation where they proposed to omit the washing of car windows as an emergency measure of retrenchment. They were informed by the Public Utilities Commission that clean cars and car windows are necessary to proper service.

Railroads differ greatly. Some of the richer roads conciliate patrons for high fares by a delightful spotlessness. Their toilet rooms shine.

1778 — Washington placed General Charles Lee under arrest for too precipitate retreat at the battle of Monmouth and for disrespect to the commander in chief.

1785 — James Edward Oglethorpe, founder of Georgia, died; born 1688.

rious injury or possible death, by placing in their hands dangerous explosives. He would also especially urge upon all municipal authorities that they put forth their utmost efforts to insure a strict observance of their prohibitive and protective ordinances.

Tolls Repeal Victory.

The passage of tolls exemption repeal closes, at least for the time being, another stage in the perpetual fight against privilege. It saves the canal from exploitation. It heads off another subsidy grab.

That is its domestic significance.

But back of this, or perhaps it may be said above it, is its international significance, for in spite of the Norris amendment, a device legally without effect, it represents an assurance to the world that the American nation guards jealously its honor and its reputation for good faith. Rather than seem to go back on its bond, rather than to quibble or wriggle or seek defense in legal technicality, it has brushed aside doubts and taken the straight course.

This action, involving a withdrawal from a position hastily taken, a withdrawal in the face of jingoism, has been supported by American opinion, regardless of party. If in a parliamentary sense it is a victory for the President a victory most creditable to him, it is in a deeper sense a victory of the American people, and we may say especially a victory of and for the Middle West. It is the Middle West which was being chiefly sacrificed to the fancied interests of the two coasts, and it was when the Middle West rose that the fight was won.

In this result the Tribune has an especial satisfaction, for the Tribune began the fighting and has kept up its leadership throughout, conscious of its responsibility to the great mid-empire which has made the Tribune what it is, and which the Tribune has tried always to serve, to reflect and truly to represent.—Chicago Tribune, (Rep.).

Representative Hinebaugh, of Illinois, gave an interview to a Washington paper the other day in which he said the tariff will never be adjusted satisfactorily "until Theodore Roosevelt returns to the White House." For seven long years as many as seventy alert newspaper correspondents trudged to the White House every day; and never did one of them, nor anyone else who has yet testified on the subject, hear Colonel Roosevelt say beans about the tariff. In connection with this issue, the mention of Theodore Roosevelt stirs a recollection that not long ago he discovered the River of Doubt down in South America.

In the light of current events, what do the honest Republican editors of the State think of those subsidized agencies which inveigled them into printing the falsehood that the State Treasury was about to be bankrupted and that the expenses of the present administration were in excess of the public revenues?

Many people feel it is useless to bother to swat the fly, as it doesn't light on anything but the food. But have you noticed how few flies are to be seen in Newark this summer? Another fly swatting campaign such as Newark had this spring and a fly will become a curiosity in this territory.

Assistant Secretary Sweeney of the Interior Department at Washington rejoices in the Christian name of "Bo." Here's an excellent chance for the paragraphs to ring in "Bo Peep."

It shouldn't be forgotten that it would be much easier to go to war with Mexico than it is to avoid an armed clash. Those crying loudest for war would probably not be among the first to enlist.

FUSSING AGAIN

Uncle Walt

The Fortune Teller.

A gypsy maiden, strangely wise, with dusky hair and midnight eyes, my future life unveiled; she said I should read the lines of fate for many another trusting state, and never yet had failed. She was a maid of savage charms; great brazen rings were on her arms, and she had strings of beads; with trinkets she was loaded down: the noisy colors of her gown recalled no widow's weeds. She told me I would live to be as rich as Andy or John D., my dreams would all come true; I'd have a palace on a hill, and vassals near to do my will, a yacht to sail the blue. And as she told what blessings fine, what great rewards and gifts were mine, in low and dulcet tones, her nimble fingers, ne'er at rest, got closer to my checkered vest, and lifted seven bones. She touched me for my meagre roll, that poor misguided, heathen soul, but still her victim smiles: she gave me dreams for half a day and took me with her to Cathay and the enchanted isles. Her glamor caused me to forget a little while the strife and sweat, the city's bricks and stones; she took my tattered soul abroad, and she is welcome to my wad—I still have seven bones.

Kansas Wheat Crop.

Kansas stops everything to harvest the wheat. After repeated predictions that it was going to harvest 100,000,000 bushels it is actually engaged in harvesting a much larger amount than that. The town of Hoxie has suspended its existence until the wheat is in. The farmers sent a committee to the town to say that the imported harvest hands had stopped work on account of the heat.

The tireless workers who conducted the Bethesda hospital campaign are to be commended for the success of their efforts. The raising of $75,000 in two weeks' time in a community devastated only 15 months ago by a great flood, is a tribute both to those who asked it and to those who gave it—a tribute to Zanesville energy and Zanesville public spirit.—Zanesville Times-Record.

Another objection to marriage is that a husband is expected to attend the family dinners given by his wife's folk.

Probably the most pitiable figure is that of the elderly man who is wholly dependent on his relatives.

The crowd's idea of a good ball game is one in which the umpire ejects four or five of the visiting players from the field.

The case of Mrs. Percival Ellington, far from being exceptional, is rather an ordinary one. Mrs. Ellington, who was a scrawny, homely girl and a tired, frayed-out wife before she became a widow three years ago, now is one of the handsomest and best dressed women in town.

CARRYING a complete outfit of elaborate stage settings, beautiful costumes and other paraphernalia, The Floyds will present on this season's Chautauqua program an evening of melody, mirth and mystification, featured as "Children's Night."

The equipment used by The Floyds is valued at more than $2,000. With the equipment the company tries out a program of real magic and deep mystery. Their entertainment is utterly devoid of the conventional and the antique. They are entertainers of the very highest class, and all of their wonderful experiments in magic, mind reading and illusions are strictly original.

The Nashville American commended The Floyds as follows: "They drew 6,000 people to the Ryman Auditorium on their second appearance on the lyceum course. This company was here earlier in the season, when they had deserved success. The Floyds are the only attraction that ever appeared on the course twice in one season."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
St. Louis, June 30.—St. Louis citizens are voting today on the proposed new city charter, which has the endorsement of the city committees of the Republican, Democratic and Progressive parties and of most of the civic organizations.

The new charter radically changes the city government by reducing the number of elective offices by increasing the power of the mayor, by substituting a one-house assembly from the present two chamber body and by centering much of the administrative work in a board of public service.

WEST VIRGINIA WILL BE "DRY" AFTER TODAY

(Associated Press Telegram)
Charleston, W. Va., June 30.—Reports from over the state today indicated that many saloonkeepers anticipated the enforcement of the prohibition amendment tonight by closing their places this morning. Some of them had disposed of their stocks, and other frankly confessed they feared disorder in the closing hours of the business. Breweries and distilleries have been going out of business for a month, some because they feared pecuniary loss attending large stocks when the end came and others in order that their plants might be rebuilt for other manufacturing purposes. One large brewery in Wheeling is almost ready to open as a meat packing house.

GEO. M. FENBERG LEASES THEATRE AT WATERLOO IA.

Mr. George Fenberg has leased the Majestic Theatre at Waterloo, Iowa, for the summer season and commencing Monday June 29th, started to run four reels of first run motion pictures with features selected from the Mutual program.

Mr. Fenberg has been the manager of the Majestic for the past season and has made the playhouse one of the most popular theatres in Waterloo. He has given the theatre receipts on a number of occasions to charity and is personally known to nearly every resident of the city. That will continue to make the theatre pronounced success is almost a certainty as he is recognized as one of the best managers in the country.

WELL EXTERMINATE RATS TO PREVENT SPREAD OF PLAGUE

(Associated Press Telegram)
New Orleans, June 30.—State and city health authorities were astir here today preparatory to the inauguration of the first wholesale campaign in the history of the south for the extermination of rats in order to prevent the spread of bubonic plague. Two cases of the disease recently have been discovered in the industrial home of the volunteers of America in New Orleans. One man died, another is ill and twenty-eight inmates of the place have been isolated. With the home as a radius of a home extending four blocks in every direction, the plans were for the construction of a concrete barrier around the entire area and for a rat drive towards the center.

Other barriers will be erected as the warfare progresses so that when the final onslaught is made every rodent within the infected area will have been destroyed. Poison and traps will be used in the work of extermination, drainpipes will be screened to prevent the escape of a single rat and every expedient of scientific rat killing employed to prevent a spread of the infection to other parts of the city.

PENALTY IF INCOME TAX IS NOT PAID TODAY

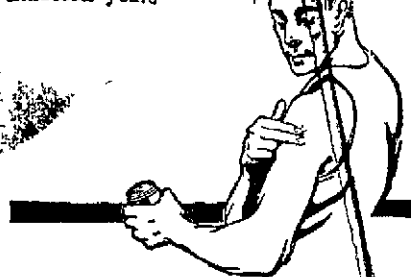

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, June 30.—Clerks in the office of Charles W. Anderson, internal revenue collector at the customs house worked until after midnight this morning in an effort to clear their desks in anticipation of the rush today to income tax payers. The income tax paid after 6 o'clock tonight are subject to a penalty of 5 per cent and 1 per cent a month.

The collector's office was crowded yesterday and when closing time came around the desks of his deputies were covered inches deep with papers.

More than $8,000,000 or 20 per cent of the whole assessment of the United States has been paid to Collector Anderson. This came from the district below Fourteenth street in which is located the financial section. It is estimated that about 1,500 have been paying their taxes daily for the last week.

CHILDREN WORKERS IN PHILADELPHIA UNDER 16 YEARS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Philadelphia, June 30.—Approximately 25,875 children, less than 16 years old are now at work in stores, factories and other commercial establishments in this city.

This is shown by the report of a statistical investigation conducted recently by the bureau of compulsory education, and made public yesterday. Of the 25,875 little workers, 11,875 are girls.

The reports show that these children left school in various grades but that the greater number terminated their education in the sixth grade. SUNDAY AT NORTH NEWARK CHRISTIAN UNION.

Sunday was another gala day for the North Newark church. At 9 o'clock J. L. Berry conducted Sunday school, with nearly 150 present. Immediately following the Sunday school, the pastor conducted baptismal service, in which two children were baptized, Ralph Cass assisted. The choir sang a beautiful song, thus opening the children's day services. Prayer by Ralph Cass. The superintendent called the classes by number, and nearly every class responded heartily, interspersed with songs by the choir. Each number was a complete surprise to all except the ones performing, thus making almost the entire congregation spectators. In this way the interest was kept up throughout the entire service, which continued until after 12 o'clock. The large crowd responded liberally to the children's call for finances, for which they have the heartfelt thanks of the school.

At night the Y. P. C. U. was well attended as was the Junior meeting in the afternoon. At 7:30 Rev. Geo. Fisher occupied the pulpit in the interest of the Anti-Saloon League work, and gave a rousing temperance talk to a full house of interested listeners. After the talk many pledges were given for the support of the Anti-Saloon work in Ohio. During the service the choir and male and female quartets rendered special music, and the pastor sang a song of his own composing, "Is That Somebody You?" Altogether, this was indeed a great day for the North End people.

The Home Beauty Parlor
By Betty Dean

Mrs. M. I am certain a daily massage with an almond cream-jelly will soon dispel your wrinkles and clear the skin of local impurities, leaving it pink and velvety and give to it the pink and white bloom of youth. To prepare the cream-jelly at home, just dissolve 1 ounce almond (get from drugist), in 1/2 pint cold water and add 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. To remove wrinkles, massage a little of the cream-jelly lengthwise of the creases.
The starved tissues respond to this treatment and assume their correct proportions, then the skin will be smooth and wrinkleless. The almond cream-jelly is especially good to cleanse the skin of pimples and blackheads.

E. L. I have found a splendid spring tonic and regulator which can be made at little cost by putting 1 ounce karoene (from drugist), in 1/2 pint alcohol and 1/2 cupful sugar, then pouring hot water in to make a quart. Take of this 1 tablespoonful 3 times each day. Stomach upsets, dis-ordered liver, clogged kidneys and blood-disorders yield quickly to the treatment, and for restoring a health and energy it is not surpassed.

Elsie. You can make that cleansing, invigorating shampoo mixture mentioned in last issue by dissolving a teaspoonful canthox in a cup hot water. This rubs up into a white, thick lather that soothes and cleanses the scalp, and rinsing removes all dust, sand, and excess oil. After a can-thox shampoo the hair dries quickly and evenly and is ever so soft, fluffy and easy to do up. Your shampoos with canthox will promote hair-health and hair-beauty and encourage a thick, beautiful growth.

Lola. This is my recipe for a valuable skin lotion: In 1/2 pint hot water or witch hazel dissolve 4 ounces spurdle which you can get at any drug store, then add 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. Apply to face, neck and arms and rub lightly until dry. This clears the skin of pimples, blackheads and discolorations, and restores the rosy tint of healthy maidenhood. This lotion is invaluable when on and gives an added touch of loveliness to the daintiest complexion. It is particularly fine for banishing the "oily," "sallow," "muddy" appearance.

Mrs. E. S. To make your too-fat
4 ounces of parnosin (from drug store) in 1 1/2 pints hot water. When cool, strain and take a tablespoonful at meal time. This is a rational, harmless treatment and gently dissolves the fat without leaving the skin wrinkled or the flesh flabby. The parnosin treatment acts differently from others, inasmuch as it restores the graceful lines to the figure and when the weight is sufficiently reduced the treatment can be discontinued.

J. O. Try the crystal eye-tonic. I have frequently mentioned in these columns and I am certain you will obtain prompt relief from your sore, watery eyes. To make the tonic at home, simply dissolve 1 ounce crystals in a pint of clear water. Two or three drops should be put in each eye a few times each day until permanent relief is had. The crystal tonic is especially fine for tired, aching muscles and for granulated lids. Its use will give to dull eyes a delightful sparkle and expression.

Flo. For a good hair-tonic, I put 1 ounce quinzoin your drugist keeps it), into 1/2 pint alcohol, then add 1/2 pint water and you will have a pint of the very best tonic for hair and scalp at little cost. The quinzoin tonic immediately relieves the burning, itching sensation and soon corrects unnatural conditions so that you will not be bothered with profuse dandruff or excess oil. Dissolve 1 ounce quinzoin in 1/2 pint alcohol, then add 1/2 pint water. The hair is soon restored to its natural, even color and softness with the aid of this tonic and its use is a positive benefit to the growth of the hair.

BIDS OPENED FOR $49,500 OF IMPROVEMENTS

Bids were opened at 12 o'clock noon, today on street improvements in Newark, to cost $49,500, in accordance with the plans and specifications of city engineer Charles Wells. The bids were opened in the office of Service Director W. C.
Christian and a number of interested parties were present.

The improvements are for paving five streets and constructing sewers in five others. The five to be paved are Linden avenue, Flory avenue, Locust street, Oakwood and Central avenues, the five requiring 21,372 2-3 square yards of pavement and 11,815 yards of excavation.

Upon this work there were two bidders, R. H. Nutter & Co. of Newark, and Henderson & Co., of Coshocton. The amounts bid upon the work ranged from $1.33 to $1.55 per square yard according to the kinds of bricks to be used and the locations of the streets.

Both firms were close competitors in the amounts submitted and until engineer Wells tabulates the figures, it will not be known certainly to which the contract will be let.

The prices are above those submitted on previous work last year, the cost of paving North street being $1.49 per square yard, while for the less expensive materials the bids were correspondingly lower. This advance is said to be on account of the demand for brick for use in road building.

There were three firms that competed for the sewers in Maple avenue, Seventh street, Indiana street, North Gay, and Tenth streets, and the specifications were for various sized sewers on different streets, the one on Tenth street to be 12 1/2 inch feet of 24 inch sewer, (the largest) while the sizes varied in the others there being sections called for of 18, 15, 12, 10, 8, and 6 inch sewers.

The firms bidding were The Reni-hold Heating and Plumbing company of Newark; A. R. Pitser, Newark; Henderson & Company, Coshocton.

A. R. Pitser's bids were the lowest on all of this work.

The contracts will be awarded later, and work will begin as soon thereafter as practical.

Of course it is possible to be both blind and deaf, but people who are blind to their own faults are seldom deaf to flattery.

Detroit, June 29, 1914.

Mr. Al. Gleichauf, Mgr.
J. Gleichauf
Newark, Ohio.

Dear Sir:

Have just closed a deal for two cars of Jewel Stoves, for exclusive sale in Newark, and certainly feel justified in so doing, because, after looking over all other standard lines, I am convinced that this is the best line the market affords.

I believe that Jewel Stoves are a realization of an ambition to build better stoves than have ever before been produced, and in offering our customers a superb showing such as this will be, we will not only uphold our reputation of selling nothing but the best, but will also add many new names to our already long list of satisfied customers.

Yours as ever

ARE MOVING INTO THE NEW CITY BUILDING

All the city officials will have removed their offices into the newly remodeled building, corner West Main and Fourth streets, by the end of this week. This is a big task, especially for those having offices on the eighth floor of the Trust building, which includes Mayor Bigbee, Auditor Dodd, Clerk of Council J. Woodward, and the board of sinking fund trustees. The work began Tuesday morning when Service Director W. C. Christian and Engineer Charles Wells started to move into the new offices, fronting on North Fourth street, from their quarters in the Union block. This of course does not require moving any of the furniture from upper floors.

TORRENS LAND LAW GOES INTO EFFECT WEDNESDAY JULY 1

The new Torrens land registry law becomes effective Wednesday in Ohio. This is the enactment of the last legislature by which the state guarantees titles to lands. The law has such provisions that title to land, legally registered, can never be questioned. The state guarantees the title to be good. If the purchaser of land is dispossessed by reason of an error of the court in the original decree or through fraud, or other causes, the state reimburses him from its loss.

Charles Coleman Hayes.
Charles Coleman Hayes was born at Dublin, Franklin county, Ohio, on July 25, 1825, and died at Spring City, Tenn., on June 28, 1914, aged 88 years, 11 months and 3 days. He was the son of Brice and Johanna Coleman Hayes. His great grandfather came from the north of England to Maryland in the 18th century. The youngest of twelve children, he was left an orphan at an early age and learned the trade of tanner and currier at Chatham, O. He came to Granville about 1848, and on Oct. 25, 1850, he married Ruth R. Wolcott; she was the granddaughter of Deacon Silas Winchell, a member of the original Granville colony, and the daughter of Horace Wolcott, each of whom owned in succession the ground on which Granville cemetery is located. Mrs. Hayes survives him, being now over 84 years of age. They lived until 1868 in the brick house on Centerville road, near Granville, and all but the eldest of their six children were born there.

Where is Europe?
The man who motors from London to Brighton would never dream of telling his friends next week that he had spent the holiday motoring in Europe. But the man who motored from Calais to Boulogne would.

Europe doesn't mean England to the average man. Try it on him and see. Europe he conceives only as the continent.

The Scilly islanders are much the same. They greet newcomers with inquiries as to affairs in England. I have known old country folk in the Isle of Wight speak in the same way, and the people of the marsh country at the back of Dungeness used to and may even now regard themselves as extra territorial. They were the marshmen; other people were foreigners and Englishmen.—London Mirror.

Ancient Eggs and Jokes.
Bad news and ditto eggs had best be broken gently.—Philadelphia Ledger.

When Luke McLuke wrote it two years ago it read, "Bad news and bad eggs should be broken gently."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Just so! And when we wrote it two years ago it ran thus: "How do you like a bad egg? If I have anything to say about a bad egg I break it gently."—Transcript.

Don't get excited, gentlemen. thing had whiskers when No. 1 boy.—Biddleford Journal.

Not so! It was a female egg in the Argus remarked a few days ago, "Bad news dropped like a bad egg—everybody knows it, broken ever Portland Eastern Argus."

Here's where I got it. "I bought his first."

ANSWER FROM CARRANZA IS EXPECTED SOON

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, June 30.—Some answer from General Carranza as to participation in the Niagara mediation conference was expected at Constitutional headquarters by night. Louis Cabrera Carranza's agent here, said the general had been conferring with his chiefs, as was required by the plan of Guadalupe and probably by this time had learned their views.

News from Mexico City that Sir Lionel Carden had advised British subjects to leave, was interpreted by the constitutionalists as foreshadowing military developments centering in the capital.
